From your administrator...

Hello everyone.

When the clock strikes twelve on December 31st, people all over the world cheer and wish each other a very Happy New Year. For some, this event is no more than a change of a calendar. For others, the New Year symbolizes the beginning of a better tomorrow. Let's not only celebrate, but also begin the new year with a renewed commitment to provide the best possible care to our residents and their family members.

Beginning January 1st, we will be instituting a new dress code for our clinical staff. Nurses will be wearing teal blue, and CNAs will be wearing burgundy colored uniforms. The nursing management will be wearing white lab coats. I hope this unified dress code will represent our professionalism and also help residents and family members identify the staff a lot easier.

As a proud member of the Historic Manassas community, our monthly Community Thought Leader Program is the right thing to do to help our community and seniors. This month's program will take place 6 – 8 p.m., Thursday, January 20th. Al Nasiri from State Farm Insurance will discuss long-term care insurance. Please RSVP to this event by Tuesday, January 18th, to the Admissions Department at (703) 257-9770. We welcome your ideas and suggestions for future presentations. If you are interested in sponsoring an event, please call the Admissions Department.

At this time, I'd like to introduce everyone to our new Admissions/Marketing Director, Chrissie Braswell. Chrissie comes to us with a rich knowledge and experience in the Medicare/Medicaid, short-term rehab and long-term care community. She has a proven track record in the admissions and marketing field. Chrissie has three school-aged children. Her husband is a staff sergeant in the U.S. Army, and they have made Haymarket their home.

Lastly, thank you. Have a prosperous and healthy New Year!

Scarlett Y. Huang, LNHA, MSN

Getting to know you...

You've all seen "Americas Next Top Model" which glamorizes the world of fashion photo shoots, runway shows and designer clothing.

Models are needed on many levels, from local boutique fashion shows to regional advertising campaigns to national cover girls.

In 1935 Helen Kube put herself through modeling school and was hired to model clothing for B. Siegel Company in Detroit. The store, which was the largest women's clothing store in the Midwest, sold upscale women's clothing and furs. When asked if she always dreamed of being a model, she replied, "Well, of course!"

While modeling in Detroit, Helen met her husband, Edward, on a streetcar. They married in 1937, had two daughters and remained married until Edward's death in 1981. Edward's job as an industrial packaging salesman required them to move frequently.

Helen has lived in Northern Virginia since 1996. Her daughter, Marcia, lives in the area; her daughter Donna lives in Denver. Helen has two living grandchildren and another who passed away two years ago. She has five great grandchildren, two girls and three boys.

Helen has lived at Manassas Health and Rehab for a year and a half. Her hobbies are reading and watching TV.
